IMPORTANT NOTICE: Te Herenga Waka—Victoria University of Wellington uses all reasonable skill and care to ensure the information contained here was accurate at the time it was prepared. However, matters covered by this publication are subject to change due to a continuous process of review, and to unanticipated circumstances. The University therefore reserves the right to make any changes without notice. So far as the law permits, the University accepts no responsibility for any loss suffered by any person due to reliance (either whole or in part) on the information contained in this publication, whether direct or indirect, and whether foreseeable or not.

Te Herenga Waka—Victoria University of Wellington has been awarded an overall five-stars-plus rating in the QS Stars university rating system, one of only 17 universities worldwide to do so. The University gained a total score of 966 out of a possible

1,000 points across eight audited categories, including maximum points for the employability and inclusiveness categories. Maximum points were awarded for 25 of the more than 30 indicators, including overall student satisfaction; further study; graduate employment rate; international diversity, support, and collaborations; academic reputation; satisfaction with teaching; campus facilities; accreditations; art and cultural investment and facilities; disabled access; scholarships and bursaries; low-income outreach; and student cohort diversity.

NAU MAI, HAERE MAI

Tēnei te reo rāhiri o te whānau o Te Herenga Waka ki a koutou katoa.

As Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Māori and Engagement), I am pleased to welcome you to Te Herenga Waka—Victoria University of Wellington. I personally want to encourage you to explore and experience all the opportunities that we have to offer as a global-civic university with the marae at its heart, and to become part of te whānau o Te Herenga Waka.

Figuratively, the marae is the 'mooring post' from which students and staff can be connected to the Māori world during their time at the University, and it provides a platform to enhance teaching, learning, research, and engagement. Our marae has been closed during the construction of our Living Pā complex, but I am excited to announce that it will reopen in December 2024. There are many other opportunities for you to connect with other Māori at Te Herenga Waka. This notion of connectivity builds on the Mai i te Iho ki te Pae—Māori Strategic Outcomes Framework, which emphasises the importance of drawing from our iho, or inner essence, our identities, and the potential to extend this ki te pae—beyond the horizons.

At Te Herenga Waka, a sense of whānau and community is important to us. This publication will introduce you to some of the dedicated staff and support structures here to help you achieve your goals and aspirations. Your arrival at this university marks a new chapter in the story of your life. The preceding chapters were largely navigated by your parents, teachers, whānau, and others. But now you are the principal navigator of your journey and you have the power to determine the direction of your own path. While you are here at Te Herenga Waka, you will have the opportunity to acquire new knowledge, develop new skills, and enhance your personal attributes that will equip you for life after university.

I wish you every success in your journey here at Te Herenga Waka. Whakamaua te pae tata kia tīna, whaia te pae tawhiti kia tata!

Professor Rawinia Higgins (Tūhoe)

Tumu Ahurei—Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Māori and Engagement)

YOUR MĀORI FUTURE STUDENT ADVISER

Our kaitawaka Māori (Māori future student adviser), Te Mapihi Tutua-Nathan, is your first point of contact with the University. She can provide advice on:

- ▶ university study
- ▶ academic expectations
- ▶ university support services
- ▶ planning the first year of your degree and courses
- ▶ entrance and admission
- ▶ scholarships.

She can also help you through the application process and connect you with the Māori support network at the University. There are opportunities for Māori students and their whānau to have customised visits around our campuses and to attend information evenings and open days throughout the year. If you are struggling with anything regarding applying to university or understanding how university works, she is the person to talk to.

CHANCES TO MEET US

Pōrutu

Pōrutu is our on-campus day programme for Māori secondary school students based in Wellington. It has a key focus on Māori-specific support, scholarships, accommodation, and finance. We hold this programme at different times for different year levels. Your Wellington-based careers adviser, school, or kura will receive notice of this event and can confirm your attendance.

On the road

Te Mapihi and the Future Students team often travel to visit schools, attend careers days and evenings, attend whānau evenings, and hold regional events. They may be at your school or kura next.

Make an appointment

You can book a Zoom or phone appointment directly with us by using our Calendly link below. You can also email us to book an in-person appointment with us at our Kelburn campus. The whānau are more than welcome to join you too!

TE HERENGA WAKA MARAE

In 1980, Te Herenga Waka marae was the first marae to be established at any university campus in Aotearoa. Six years later, Te Tumu Herenga Waka (the whareniui) was opened. This incredibly ambitious initiative of its time continues to have a profound effect on the generations of students who graduate with their qualifications at hui whakapūmau (Māori graduation) at the marae.

As an urban, pan-tribal marae, Te Herenga Waka has acted as a second home for Māori students at the University.

Built by staff, students, and the wider community, the marae is a place to connect in a whānau-like environment, to learn and study, and to forge connections and friendships.

www.wgtn.ac.nz/maori-hub

“Having a marae on campus gives us Māori students another kāinga while living away from home. We don’t have to leave our identity at the gate.”

Brody Panoho (Ngāpuhi, Ngāti Tahu-Ngāti Whaoa, Ngāi Tūhoe)
Student, Bachelor of Arts

THE LIVING PĀ OPEN FOR 2025

Sketch by Stantial's Studio.

HE PĀ MATAORA, HE PĀ KAIAO, HE PĀ ANAMATA!

A THRIVING COMMUNITY, A LIVING LAB, A BRIGHT FUTURE!

The Living Pā is our new marae-based learning, teaching, research, and engagement hub.

As one of the most cutting-edge, environmentally responsible buildings in the world, the pā asks us to reset our standards and be bold in ways that were once unimaginable.

The Living Pā will be a space for students, staff, and communities to connect, study, innovate, and explore how we can build a more equitable, fair, and sustainable future.

www.wgtn.ac.nz/living-pa

"As students, we are so excited about the Living Pā, to have a new space to come together, to be free to be ourselves as Māori and learn about sustainable living."

Ashley McGregor (Te Rarawa)
Student, Bachelor of Arts and co-president,
Te Hōhaieti o Te Reo Māori

"Our health and wellbeing is a reflection not just of our lifestyle, our place in communities, but also of how healthy our natural environments are. The Living Pā is a way for us to be actively empowered to work, teach, and learn sustainably, to walk the talk, and live out our tikanga."

University Entrance

University Entrance through the National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) is one of the most common admission types for entry into the University. It has the following requirements.

NCEA LEVEL 3 CERTIFICATE

14 credits at Level 3 in an approved subject	14 credits at Level 3 in an approved subject	14 credits at Level 3 in an approved subject
LITERACY 10* credits at Level 2 or above (5 in reading, 5 in writing)		NUMERACY 10* credits at Level 1 or above

*From specified lists of standards. Go to www.nzqa.govt.nz for a list of approved subjects.

Diploma in Māoritanga / Tohu Māoritanga

Tohu Māoritanga is designed to provide a foundation in Māori culture and society, Māori customs and practice, Māori language, and academic and study skills in a culturally responsive learning environment. It has a duration of one year (full-time study), with 120 points needed to complete the diploma.

Upon successful completion, you will gain entrance into our university and may be able to cross-credit up to 60 points to a Bachelor of Arts degree or 40 points to any other Bachelor's degree. You will be required to submit documents, including a personal statement and a CV, and participate in an interview to determine your suitability.

Achieving University Entrance is one of the quickest ways to gain entrance into our university. However, if University Entrance does not work out, Tohu Māoritanga is an alternative option.

HOW A DEGREE WORKS

Courses

Courses are blocks of work that are taught over one or two trimesters. In your first year, you will take 100-level courses. The number of courses you take in a year will vary depending on how many points each course is worth. Some degrees have core courses that all students must complete.

Points

Each course is typically worth 15 or 20 points. To pass a course, you need to complete a number of different assessments throughout the trimester. When you pass the course, you earn points towards your degree.

To complete your degree, you will need to gain 360 points over three years of full-time study. Degrees in Engineering, Law, and Midwifery take four years of full-time study to complete as 480 points are required for these degrees. Regardless of which degree you study towards, you will aim to complete approximately 120 points each year.

Majors

A major is the main subject you specialise in. For example, you might do a Bachelor of Science with a major in Computer Science. Each year you will take courses required for your major(s).

Double majors

A double major allows you to specialise in two subjects within one degree—an example of this could be a Bachelor of Arts with a double major in History and French. A double major requires the same number of points as a degree with only one major and should not take any extra time.

Some of our degrees allow you to take a second major from another degree—for example, you can do a Bachelor of Science with a double major in Physics and German.

Minors

In some of our degrees, you can take a minor. A minor is similar to a major, but requires fewer courses, particularly in your second and third years. Having a minor is optional in most degrees.

Electives

You can take elective courses if you have space in your degree programme. Elective courses can be from other subject areas you are interested in.

Conjoint and double degrees

Conjoint and double degrees allow you to complete two degrees in a shorter amount of time as courses can be cross-credited. For example, a conjoint Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Arts could be completed within five years. Note that not all degrees can be done conjointly.

STUDYLINK

You can apply for a Student Allowance or a Student Loan for course-related and living costs through StudyLink. This service also offers help with applying for a Community Services

Card and other financial aid, such as subsidies for childcare. The Student Allowance, Student Loan, and threshold for the Community Services Card are adjusted annually on 1 April and usually increase slightly. For more information, contact your Māori future student adviser (see page 4) or go to the StudyLink website.

PŪTEA ĀWHINA—HARDSHIP FUND

This is an emergency fund that helps students facing financial difficulties. Eligible students are expected to claim their full StudyLink entitlements before applying for the hardship grant. Grants are available for a range of issues, including:

- ▶ flatting problems
- ▶ high course-related costs
- ▶ high transport costs
- ▶ medical, dental, and optical costs.

Contact a student finance adviser (see left) to make an appointment.

HARDSHIP FUND EQUITY GRANT

Grants are available to encourage students who are facing financial hardship to continue in their studies at the University.

SCHOLARSHIPS

SCHOOL-LEAVER SCHOLARSHIPS

Our school-leaver scholarships have been developed to support and encourage students who embody the key attributes that the University values: excellence, leadership, diversity, sporting achievement, sustainability, and commitment to community. Offering much more than just financial assistance, our scholarships are designed to create communities of students who share the same ambitions, goals, backgrounds, and values.

All our scholarship recipients will have access to a dedicated development toolkit that provides links to career development, events, and learning opportunities. Whatever your study and life goals, our range of scholarships offers something for everyone.

Kahurangi Māori Student Scholarship

The Kahurangi Māori Student Scholarship recognises Māori students who have achieved Merit or above in NCEA (or equivalent study for Year 12) and demonstrate strength of engagement in te ao Māori, involvement in their community, leadership responsibilities, and performance in the arts, sports, or other cultural contexts.

- ▶ Valued at up to $30,000 over three years of study at the University, including full accommodation costs for the first year in a University hall of residence or on the Marino floor in Joan Stevens Hall for first-year tāuira Māori who want to live, learn, and maintain their own tikanga with other Māori tāuira
- ▶ $5,000 towards fees in the second year and a $5,000 stipend in the third year
- ▶ Tāuira Māori will be connected with Āwhina—Māori Student Success

For students who are not in a hall, a $5,000 fees contribution can be taken in the first and second years, and a $5,000 stipend in the third year.

Kaumātua endorsement

When applying for school-leaver scholarships, you will be asked for a kaumātua endorsement. This is to verify your whakapapa—confirm that you whakapapa to your iwi (see below). It's good to start thinking about this early. You will need to supply their email address so the University can contact them directly. If your kaumātua does not have access to email, get in touch with our scholarships office or your Māori future student adviser (see page 4).

REGISTER WITH YOUR IWI

Registering with your iwi is important, not just for connecting with them and being in the know but also because many Māori scholarship applications will require you to verify your whakapapa and check to see if you are registered with your iwi. Most iwi will have websites, so make sure you check out all your iwi websites and follow the instructions provided on how to register with them. Keep a note of the registration number they provide you with for future reference.

TAIHONOA

Through our Taihonoa programme, the University has partnered with iwi, Māori organisations, and trusts to increase the grants and scholarship offerings for tāuira Māori studying at Te Herenga Waka. This means that if you receive a scholarship through a Taihonoa partner, we can offer to match it or provide additional funding towards it. See who our Taihonoa partners are at Te Herenga Waka.

www.wgtn.ac.nz/taihonoa

MĀORI EDUCATION TRUST

The Māori Education Trust has hundreds of scholarships for secondary school and tertiary Māori students. The criteria for each scholarship varies depending on the kaupapa of the scholarship. Because the Māori Education Trust is a partner of Te Herenga Waka, we are able to negotiate matched funding with the Māori Education Trust and with Taihonoa partners to provide awards from all three groups, depending on the interested funding partners. Check out the Māori Education Trust's website for more information.

ACCOMMODATION

Te Herenga Waka—Victoria University of Wellington offers 12 halls of residence, with two accommodation options for students wanting to live in a Māori environment.

KELBURN FLATS—WHARE HĪNAU: WHĀNAU HOUSING

The 10 houses in the Kelburn Flats—Whare Hīnau community contain a mixture of single and twin-share rooms, along with a lounge, kitchen, bathroom, and laundry. The bedrooms all come with a bed, desk, and storage. Internet and power are included, and the communal areas are also furnished. This is an option for Māori students in their second year and above of university only.

Whānau Housing is great for those who want to connect more with their taha Māori (Māori side) and for those who want to live in accommodation where tikanga Māori and te reo Māori (Māori cultural practices and language) are normalised.

“Whānau Housing offered me a sense of home away from home, and my favourite part was our cuppa and cards nearly every night.”

Teina Ngaia (Taranaki (Tuturu), Te Ātiawa, Ngāruahine)

Student, Bachelor of Arts in Cultural Anthropology and Health Promotion

MARINO

Marino is a dedicated floor within Joan Stevens Hall for any Māori students who want to live with other Māori students from around the motu (country). This provides a space where students are welcome to kōrero i te reo Māori and live with other taura Māori from different backgrounds, whether you have grown up in te ao Māori or are still learning more about your Māoritanga. Taura Māori are also welcome to practise and maintain their own tikanga, and share and embrace their own mātauranga from their iwi/hapū/region.

Marino floor has a direct connection to the Āwhina—Māori Student Success team. There are two kaiakiaki—Māori student engagement advisers from the Āwhina team who have direct and regular contact with Marino floor students and run regular activities to support them, whether that be with study, finances, social support, or kai. Students will also have a Māori residential adviser who is a senior student living on site and will most likely be the first point of contact to provide any help.

Joan Stevens Hall is located at 132 The Terrace, close to the Wellington central business district and the University's Kelburn and Pipitea campuses.

All bedrooms are fully furnished, heated, and have internet access. Each floor of the building has a large common room with a kitchenette, study area, television, DVD player, and couches. Laundry facilities are also available on site.

To learn more about Joan Stevens Hall, Whānau Housing, and any of our other halls of residence, check out Te Kopanga—University Accommodation Wellington's website.

www.wgtn.ac.nz/accommodation

How to apply

To apply, you will need to include your interest in the Marino floor in your personal statement that is attached to your accommodation application. You will also need to select Joan Stevens Hall as your preferred hall.

If you receive a Kahurangi Scholarship and plan to stay in a hall, you will automatically be placed on Marino floor. However, you will most likely submit an accommodation application before finding out the outcome of scholarship applications. Therefore, it would be safer to mention your interest in Marino floor in your accommodation application, just in case you do not receive the scholarship.

Read more about the Kahurangi Scholarship on page 16.

MĀORI STUDENT SUPPORT

ĀWHINA—MĀORI STUDENT SUCCESS

Āwhina is the on-campus whānau for taura Māori studying at Te Herenga Waka. Providing a cultural perspective to your university experience, Āwhina strives to better your educational experiences both in and out of the classroom. Our purpose at Āwhina is to provide academic support for all Māori students enrolled at the University, whether you are a school leaver or a mature student. Through a shared experience, you can apply your individual skills and expand your horizons by learning with meaningful support. We achieve this by offering services that include:

- ▶ study wānanga
- ▶ one-to-one advice
- ▶ te ao Māori workshops (rongoā, raranga, poi making, and waiata)
- ▶ kai and kōrero/whakawhanaungatanga
- ▶ contact with Māori academics.

We will see you at Orientation and you can contact us anytime by email. Follow our social media channels to get an idea of what the Māori student experience is really like.

DISABILITY SERVICES

Te Amaru—Disability Services works in partnership with students and staff to ensure students can fully participate and achieve their aspirations, and to strengthen the University's culture of inclusion. At our university, disability includes the Deaf and those with injuries or physical, mental, sensory, specific learning, or health impairments. The team provides individual coaching, liaison with academic staff, adaptive technology, inclusive digital learning tools, sign-language interpreting, lecture information capture, assessment support, mobility transport, and quiet places to rest and study. Students can meet with a disability and inclusion adviser on campus or online.

Each campus has an accessible route, which is indicated on the campus maps.

HEALTH AND COUNSELLING

Our doctors and nurses at Mauri Ora—Student Health and Counselling provide a full range of health services, including care if you have had an accident, if you are unwell, or if you are managing an ongoing health condition. Appointments for contraception, sexual health checks, and preventative healthcare such as immunisations are also available. Same-day appointments are available for urgent cases. Consultations are free if you register with us.

Counsellors are available on all campuses to confidentially discuss personal and academic issues that may be affecting your general sense of wellbeing, learning, or relationships. Duty counsellors are available each day for urgent cases. Personal development and wellbeing programmes are also available.

"My first week at uni was hectic but manageable. Āwhina, the marae, and Whānau Housing helped me transition smoothly."

Teina Ngaia (Taranaki (Tuturu), Te Ātiawa, Ngāruahine)

Student, Bachelor of Arts in Cultural Anthropology and Health Promotion

PREPARE FOR UNIVERSITY

We want you to be as prepared as you can be for university, and for your transition into studying with us to be as smooth as possible. You can use this checklist as a guide for keeping on top of all the admin that comes with applying for university.

UNIVERSITY PREPARATION CHECKLIST

- Choose a programme: Explore our subjects and programmes to figure out what you would like to study.
- Apply for school-leaver scholarships (by 2 September).
- Check your eligibility for fees-free study at www.feesfree.govt.nz
- Apply early for StudyLink.
- Check your admission type (most commonly University Entrance). Also check you meet the entry requirements and prerequisites of your chosen programme.
- Apply for accommodation/halls of residence.
- Apply for admission through Pūaha, our online platform (you will need to create a Pūaha account at www.wgtn.ac.nz/puaha).
- Plan your courses: You may have Te Kahupapa—Future Students advisers visit your school to help you with this process. If not, or if you have decided to change the courses you planned, contact a Māori future student adviser or set up a course-advice appointment to help plan your programme.

- Apply to enrol in your chosen courses (through Pūaha).
- Confirm your enrolment and accept your Offer of Study.
- Submit any required documentation.
- Collect your student ID card.
- Go to New Students' Orientation in the week before your first trimester begins.

GET PREPARED AND IN THE MINDSET

At a certain point, going to university starts to feel very real. Get prepared for what you're about to experience. Most students are moving away from home for the first time and are gaining a lot more independence. Talk to whānau and friends who have been to university about their experience.

Get in touch with Māori future student advisers with any questions or worries.

Follow Ngāi Tauira and Āwhina on social media (see pages 20 and 22) to get an idea of what current students get up to and what you have to look forward to. Most of all, get excited!
